ASEM eNews

January 2018

President's Note

Happy New Year – and what a year we have ahead!

Early planning is underway to ensure you have an enjoyable and informative Conference this year. The conference promises to have something for everyone. So don't be left out, respond to the call for papers and share your knowledge and research.

The board will meet in Idaho in March to engage in the annual strategic planning session to discuss ways to continue to move the society forward. If you have any suggestions you would like us to explore, feel free to contact me; I am at your disposal.

ASEM is proud to partner with other groups to sponsor events such as:

- SWE "Diversity and Inclusion Fuels Innovation in STEM" Capitol Hill Day and reception on Wednesday, March 14th in Washington, DC.
- The "15th Annual Engineering Public Policy Symposium" Tuesday, April 24, 2018, in Washington, DC.
- TEMSCON 2018, International Conference of the IEEE Technology and Engineering Management Society, June 28 - July 1, 2018, Evanston, IL.
- International Joint Conference in Europe, July 18-20, 2018, Lisbon, Portugal, EU.

A new year means new opportunities. The Southwest Regional Director position is available and represents a good opportunity to get involved. Possibly a new adventure awaits.

ASEM Co-Sponsors Important Policy Events in DC

ASEM is proud to co-sponsor the “15th Annual Engineering Public Policy Symposium” scheduled for Tuesday, April 24, 2018, with ASME. This invitation-only Symposium will focus on public policy priorities pertaining to the Fiscal Year 2019 (FY19) Federally Funded Research and Development Budget Request.

Officials from the Administration and Congress are invited to discuss their priorities for the second session of the 115th Congress. During the afternoon, interested Symposium attendees will have an opportunity to meet with their Members of Congress to discuss issues of importance to the engineering community.

ASEM is also proud to be teaming up with the Society of Women Engineers to promote STEM and engineering for women and underrepresented populations at the “Diversity and Inclusion Fuels Innovation in STEM” Capitol Hill Day and reception on Wednesday, March 14th, 2018.

Check ProQuest products in Your Library for IAC Transactions

Several years ago ASEM entered into a partnership with ProQuest to index our conference proceedings. Typically conference proceedings are sent to ProQuest and are available through a variety of ProQuest products within a few months of the conference. In general, if you are looking for your papers using a university library search engine, it is important to know what ProQuest products the library subscribes to. Our conference proceedings are in the following ProQuest products:

- Business Premium Collection
- ABI/Inform
- SciTech Premium Collection
- Technology Collection
- Materials Science & Engineering Database
- ProQuest Central

We are encouraging our members to work with their library to do what they can to encourage subscription to one or several of these ProQuest products.
